Background and Context	Under current RGMA validation rules, a registered user is unable to install an asset to a Supply Meter Point prior to their confirmation effective date once the confirmation status becomes Live. This change is to enable the registered user to record an accurate asset installation date for a first registration or a registration following a shipper-less and isolated period.

Change Design Description
At present the RGMA validation rules do not allow an asset installation to be recorded pre D-2 of the confirmation effective date. Once the confirmation has progressed to a Live status, the Registered User cannot record the actual asset installation date if it pre-dates the confirmation effective date. To allow the Registered User to correctly record the asset installation details for the correct date, the validation rule within UK Link will be amended for both the ONJOB and ONUPD files: <ul style="list-style-type: none">On first registration or a registration following an isolated and shipper-less period the Registered User with a Live confirmation status can record the asset installation for a date prior to their confirmation effective date where there is no other Registered User on or after the asset installation date. The existing RGMA validation rules will still apply and remain unchanged. This change ensures compliance with UNC G3 (MOD425 installations) and G7.3.7, asset
